FIGHT 'FOR LASTING PEACE IN EUROPE'

Nazis Drive on 35 Miles of Front; Poilus Report Heavy Fighting as War Begins in Earnest.

Premier Daladier last night gave the signal for the European war to go on, with a refusal of Adolf Hitler's peace formula based on Russian-German partition of Poland.

In a nation-wide broadcast the French Premier made the first formal reply to the Friday reichstag speech of Hitler by spurning the "German peace" as one which would not prevent preparation for new conquests.

As the premier spoke the French general staff announced that French troops on the western front were repulsing surprise German attacks by "quite large numbers of men" along a 35-mile stretch from the Moselle river, on the extreme northern flank, Saarbruecken, center key to the Nazi advance

Bride Is Not With Escaped Life-Termer, But He Says She's in Dallas, Promises To Lead Officers to Her; Personal Friend of Governor O'Daniel Will Act As Fugitive's Counsel.

By FRANK DRAKE, Constitution Staff Writer.

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 10.—Richard Gray (Dick) Gallogly, fugitive life-term convict, walked into the Dallas county jail here this afternoon and, after announcing that he would fight extradition to Georgia, surrendered to Sheriff Smoot Schmid.

Gallogly, a short time earlier, had telephoned his mother, Mrs. Worth E. Yankey, in Atlanta. Mrs. Yankey informed Georgia authorities of the surrender a few minutes before Gallogly actually presented himself to Sheriff Schmid.

WIFE MISSING.

The fugitive's wife, Vera, who fled with him from officers Friday night, was not with him. He told Public Safety Commissioner Lon Sullivan over the telephone that his wife was in Dallas, but that he had not seen her for six or eight hours. He promised Sullivan that he would lead Texas authorities to Mrs. Gallogly's place of residence some time tonight.

Gallogly was being taken to Tattnall prison when he escaped. Informed that Gallogly was planning to fight extradition, Governor Rivers immediately drew up a formal call on Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, of Texas, for the prisoner and dispatched Attorney General Ellis Arnall and Assistant Solicitor General J. Walter LeCraw, of Fulton county, to Dallas with the neces-

Captain Dave M. Simmons, of the highway patrol, Trooper W. P. Grinstead, and Hugh L. Perryman, special investigator for Solicitor General John A. Boykin, went along to guard the prisoner on the return trip. The Georgia party left by motor car early tonight, expecting to arrive in Texas late tomorrow. Seeks "Justice."

Gallogly told Sheriff Schmid that he had "come to Texas because he knew that he could get justice" here. He claimed that he is innocent of the two murders for which he and George R. Harsh are under life sentence in Georgia.

Shortly after Gallogly was locked up by Sheriff Schmid, Harold H. Young, well-known Dallas lawyer, and Senator Jess Martin, of Fort Worth, a long-time personal friend of Governor O'Daniel, arrived at the jail and announced they had been retained as Gallogly's lawyers. Young said he had been employed by Gallogly himself and that he had associated Martin in the case.

Young recently appeared as counsel for Freeman Burford, wealthy Texas oil operator, who was indicted along with Louisiana state officials in the so-called "hot oil" scandal. Young appeared before a federal judge and succeeded in keeping Burford from being extradited to Louisiana.

Read in Paper.

"The young man told me that he had read in the paper where I represented Mr. Burford and said he wanted me to keep him from being extradited," Mr. Young said. Asked on what grounds he would fight the extradition, Young said the grounds would not be revealed until he appeared before Governor O'Daniel.

Gallogly told Dallas authorities that he drove to Atlanta in the penal board car immediately after his escape and that he and his wife transferred to her car in a parking lot across from the Crawford W. Long hospital. He added they then drove to Anniston, where they spent Friday night, proceeding to Memphis Saturday, to Texarkana Sunday, and to Dallas Monday, arriving here last night.

Senator Martin said that he received a call from Mr. Young this morning asking his participation in the case. He said the sum-

LONDON, Oct. 10 .- (By Wireless)-Never did the British mot-"Wait and see," come more readily to the lips and thoughts of British statesmen and never was sight more difficult and waiting fraught with more peril.

It is perhaps unfair to suggest that delay and pondering are only screens for perplexity. The fact remains that the world situation is as dark as London's "blackout," with only faint red lights to signify the myriad dangers.

First and foremost there are the two prodigious unknown quantities—Germany and Russia. Does Hitler really want peace? Does Hitler need peace? Can peace be

All Agree on One Point.
In the midst of the uncertainty, there is one significant point. In the semi-official Franco-British comment on Hitler's speech, there is no reservation that peace with the Hitler regime is impossible. But at the moment of cabling, there is no sign that anyone anywhere is prepared to put forward a concrete peace offer. In Rome, from which I have just returned, it was clear that Mussolini—not mention the Vatican-would welcome and support any cogent step toward peace. Doubtless, the same is true of Belgium, Holland, Switzerland, Scandinavia and of the American administration and people. But no one appears willing to take the chance of making the proposal.

TO TRAIN COLONIAL PILOTS IN CANADA

Program Calls for Four Countries To Send Men; More Flying Fields Will Be Constructed.

OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—(Canadian Press)-Canada bade fair tonight to become the wartime air capital of the British empire.

The increasing importance of her place in Britain's war preparations was stressed today in the announcement of a co-operative air training program upon which she has agreed along with the United Kingdom, Austra'ia and New Zealand.

The plan, announced simultanebusly here and in London, calls for pilots, observers and gunners from the four empire countries to come to Canada for intermediate and advanced training.

Each country will conduct its own schools for preliminary training. A mission from the United Kingdom, headed by Lord Riverdale, is on the way to Canada, and others will come shortly from New Zealand and Australia.

Figures on the number of airmen to be trained in this dominion were lacking, but more flying fields, aircraft, instructors and living quarters will be provided.

Upon completion of training courses in Canada, the airmen will join either the royal air force or squadrons maintained in the war by their own governments.

LIDDELL IS GIVEN News of Gate City 5-TO-10-YEARTERM

Salesman Pleads 'Guilty'; Court Follows Suggestion of Mother-in-Law Fixing Sentence.

In a surprise move, Edwin C. Liddell, Atlanta stock and bond salesman and former star athlete at Georgia Tech, yesterday plead-ed guilty to voluntary manslaugh-ter in the death of his wife, Mrs. Rose Liddell, and received a sen-tence of from 5 to 10 years.

Judge E. E. Pomeroy passed that sentence when counsel for the state and the defense agreed upon the punishment upon the recommenda-tion of the dead woman's mother, Mrs. Ellen Bindewald, of Piedmont

As the prosecution and the de-fense gathered in the superior court room yesterday morning to start the trial of Liddell for murder, it was reported that the state's three star witnesses, Helen, Ann and Alex Liddell, minor children of the defendant and the dead woman, had been taken out of Georgia and would not be available to testify as to the events which took place in their home June 3 which culminated in Mrs. Liddell being beaten to death with a blunt

Children in Kentucky. Court attaches said they learned the children were taken to Kentucky last week end because members of their mother's family did want them to undergo the publicity resultant from the trial. State prosecution attorneys said that the three children were the only ones who knew what had hap-pened in their Thirteenth street residence the day Mrs. Liddell was

Liddell, who was defended by William Schley Howard, said not a word as Judge Pomerov pronounced sentence after the plea of guilty to voluntary manslaughter was made. He appeared highly nervous. Howard asked that he be given a physical examination before being assigned to a prison camp to serve his five years. J. Walter LeCraw, assistant solicitor general, who handled the Liddell case in the absence of Assistant Solicitor E. E. Andrews, who has been ill, said that there was conflicting evidence in the case and that it appeared the death blows were struck while Liddell and his wife were drinking.

To Check Constipation Get at Its Cause!

If constipation has you down so you feel heavy, tired and dopey, it's time you did something about it. And something more than just taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble.

If you eat the super-refined food most people eat, the chances are the difficulty is simple-you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean heavy food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines. If this common form of constipation is your trouble, eat Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day and drink plenty of water. All-Bran isn't a medicine—it's a crunchy, tousted, nutri-

Dispute Over $5,000 Part of His Fine Is Still To Be Settled.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.-(A)-Al Capone will be released from Terminal Island, Cal., on November 19, federal courthouse sources said today, provided a dispute over a $5,000 chunk of his fine was set-

The dispute arises from that fact that the former Chicago gang czar was convicted and sentenced on only five counts of the 22-count income tax indictment and was acquitted on the others.

Abraham Teitelbaum, his post-conviction lawyer, paid $30,000 to the government last January, two weeks before Capone was moved from Alcatraz island to Terminal island to complete the last year of the 11-year sentence imposed with a $50,000 fine. The balance of $20,000 remains unpaid.

In a claim on file with the department of justice Teitelbaum contended Capone was entitled to a refund of $5,000 because he had been convicted of only a fourth of the charges. The question has been sent to officials in Washington for decision.

ATLANTA, GA., OCTOBER 11, 1939.

The Issues At Stake

The firmness with which Premier Daladier. in his speech of yesterday, rejected all hopes of peace based upon the Hitler terms, should be gratifying to all informed observers of the European war. At the same time the French leader indicated that his country and Great Britain would be glad, at any time, to discuss a peace formula if advanced by the German people, as distinct from their present Nazi overlords.

This reply from the French premier to the rambling and almost incoherent "peace offensive" from Hitler, is but as was expected. It is inconceivable that the British attitude, to be expressed by Chamberlain today, should be at all different.

At the same time there is a thoroughly reasonable hope, particularly in America, that the Allies will soon set forth some sort of a peace program which will define, in language plain to everyone, the Allied objectives in this new world war. For there is, frankly, a widespread lack of understanding of the fundamental causes of the war now precipitated in Europe. A clear statement of their peace demands, by the Allies, would go far to clarify this muddled thinking by many neutrals.

The Allies are engaged in a fight to the finish with forces which, if permitted to have their own way any longer, would revolutionize the entire economic system of the world and, in so doing, wipe out in all countries a great part of that individual liberty which mankind has won under the banners of the democratic nations.

It is not, basically, a war between totalitarianism and democracy, however. Rather this is a war between the Communist-Nazi ideology and capitalism. Both Stalin and Hitler social and economic forces which avowedly hate capitalism, the system of private ownership of wealth and private conduct of business and industry. It is the ambition of both Communist and Nazi to do away entirely with private initiative and private ownership. In short, with the capitalist system of society.

This is where democracy becomes involved. For it is 100 per cent true that the only form of society under which democracy can exist is the capitalist form. Do away with private ownership and you automatically do away with democracy, with individual liberty and with the independent dignity of the free citizen. You reduce him, at one stroke, from a self-governing, free citizen of a free nation, to an enslaved unit of an all-powerful state.

It must also be remembered that, in thus making the state all-powerful and in destroying capitalistic individualism, the totalitarian governments have turned into gangster nations. with their regimented peoples transformed into a militaristic club held over the heads of the free nations of the world.

A halt had to be called to the spreading power of Hitler's unscrupulous Nazidom. It could not be called at the time of the Munich appeasement treaty. Britain and France were then unarmed, defenseless before a ruthless braggart who was armed to the teeth.

But Britain and France prepared and, when they were ready, informed the international gangster he must halt. That the point for halting was the border of Poland was merely incidental. A halt had to be called somewhere and Hitler's drive into Poland coincided in time with the Allied preparedness to challenge him.

Now, having called that halt, it is the objective of the Allies to enforce it by the only means the Nazis recognize, force.

The United States looks on, keenly interested but rightfully determined not to enter the fray as a belligerent. For it must be the role of this country to stay out of the war, to uphold the hopes of democracy and freedom and to be ready to help in the great work of reconstruction and rehabilitation which must come when the war is finally ended.

That is why the vast majority of citizens of the United States are placed in the strange tion of keeping out of the war themselves, but at the same time eagerly desiring the ultimate victory of the British and French allies. For all of us, over here, know that if Britain and France should be crushed before the German military machine, if Hitler and Stalin should realize their dream of European domination, the world would not be a pleasant place

It is not likely, even then, that Nazi or Communist would directly attack the United States. But the influence of the Communist-Nazi control of the rest of the world would be farreaching and disastrous upon all the Americas. too. Of that, never be in doubt.

Paying the Piper

It has frequently been warned, by the press, by public officials and by educators, that the growing tendency to hinder free commercial intercourse between the different states in this country, could only lead to disrupting trade wars and to practices not in consonance with American principles.

The enactment of state laws levying special fees, licenses or calling for handicapping inspections, on products shipped from one state to another, is nothing but a reversion to a system which has not existed here since the adoption of the federal constitution. It was, in fact, the confusion growing out of tariffs and trade rivalries between the 13 original states that forced, in large degree, the adoption of that

The evil practice was brought more emphatically to public attention a week or so ago when Director Braswell Deen, of the Georgia Department of Public Welfare, declared that dairy products from Wisconsin could no longer be distributed among relief clients in this state. The notorious and exorbitant state tax levied by Wisconsin on margarine, a food product which is largely manufactured of cottonseed oil, is the cause of this retaliatory, anti-Wisconsin action.

There can be no blame attached to Director Deen. His action will be approved by the vast majority of Georgians, as well as other southerners who resent the uncalled for discrimination, by Wisconsin, against a healthy food product of the south.

Wisconsin has been given ample warning. Her prohibitive tax, or tariff, against margarine has been condemned by numerous organizations, including the American Federation of Labor, the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs, the Association of Southern Agricultural Workers, the Association of Southern Commissioners of Agriculture, the National Association of Retail Grocers and the National Creamery Buttermakers' Association.

It is not unlikely that other southern leaders will follow the lead of Director Deen, of Georgia. The effect upon the Wisconsin dairy industry will be severe. It is hoped it will result in a lifting of the Wisconsin state tariff on

If so, none will welcome a return, in this instance, to the American principle of free trade between states, more sincerely than Geor-

"Best in the Nation"

Dr. E. P. Long, chief food inspector of the Georgia Department of Agriculture, has rated Georgia oysters as the "best in the nation." This, he says, is the result of three years of intensive work for the improvement of the popular bivalve in Georgia waters, and of the thorough and careful inspection service maintained by the state.

The duty of these inspectors, one stationed at Brunswick and another at Savannah, is to see that sanitary conditions are maintained at all oyster shucking plants, that oysters are handled in thoroughly sanitary manner all the way from the beds to the consumer, and to prevent the bootlegging of oysters from polluted areas.

As a result of the rigid inspection and the resultant high quality of the Georgia product, the industry in this state is growing rapidly, after a lapse of many years. It provides employment for many Georgians and thus contributes materially to the economic welfare of the state.

That the oyster is one of the finest of natural foods was likewise emphasized by Dr. Long. It contains valuable vitamins, proteins and minerals.

When so fine a food, in such excellent condition, can be produced in Georgia it behooves all lovers of the juicy bivalve to insist on Georgia oysters when ordering a favorite dish.

Prosperity, according to Milly, the titiantopped typewriter, happens when steel mills begin firing their furnaces instead of employes.

Think of the trouble which would be prevented if those tiny, weak little European nations would stop picking on their huge, greedy

It is of interest that the United States has sustained again this year its reputation as the greatest producer of Santa Claus goods on the globe. And bicycles and skates—oh, boy, Santa advises the supply is unlimited.

THE CAPITAL PARADE

BY JOSEPH ALSOP AND ROBERT KINTNER.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The basic tenet of New Deal spending economics is that the last frontier has disappeared. It is all the more interesting, therefore, to see the anti-spenders at the Commerce and Treasury Departments busily searching for a new frontier in South America. The war, by preoccupying our competitors, created the opportunity for a South American trade program. The program is taking shape as a great, permanent commercial expansion, squarely founded on development of untapped South American resources.

An idea of the sort of thing that is afoot may be obtained from the conclusions of a conference of leading exporters and manufac-turers recently called at the Commerce Department by Undersecretary Edward Noble. In an atmosphere of temperate optimism, the conferees discussed every aspect of the trade problem, addressing themselves particularly to the main obstacle. This is, of course, the difficulty in selling our manufactured products to countries which must offer in exchange chiefly raw materials that we already have.

IMPERIALIST TOUCH As the best solution, the conferees suggested a long-range development program on an extremely ambitious scale. Although long-range planning may seem a trifle futile in times like these, the program's main points are well worth study. (1) A government agency, probably the Export-Import Bank, should initiate careful economic studies of the various South and Central American countries. The studies, to be conducted in the field by private engineering firms, should be directed to discovering goods that can be produced in South America for which there is demand in the United States. Rubber, special hardwoods, manila fiber, quinine and the highcost metal alloys are among the possi-

(2) When the studies are complete, the government agency in charge should finance South American development along the lines indicated as economically feasible, using the engineering firms as disbursing agents. Thus, over a period of years, the South Americans would gain wealth which they could exchange for the products of the United States, just as they gained wealth from British exploitation of their resources and used it to buy British products.

(3) While the long-range development is being carried on, immediate problems should be taken care of by close co-operation between governmental and business representatives in the field, and exporting businessmen and the government at home. Everything should be done to facilitate continuous trade expansion, including increased governmental lending to exporters. At the same time, care should be exercised to keep the expansion well-planned

RESULTS? In the way of such a program, there are many stumbling-blocks. For instance, the Commerce Department conferees decided that in order to further the program, financial attaches ought to be appointed to our embassies in Brazil, Chile and the Argentine. This upset the State Department, as did the conferees' insistence that the so-called British blacklist ought to be protested against with firmness. Administrative friction will not last, however, for the State Department is also hard at work to increase South American trade. Much worse stumbling-blocks are such knotty puzzles as the South American debts to this country, and the shortage of foreign exchange.

Each puzzle must be tackled separately and patiently. Each calls for its own solution. For example, the British are doing much war-buying in the Argentine, but attempting to pay chiefly in blocked sterling or in British securities in Argentine enterprises. Before long, it is expected, the stock of the British-owned Argentine railways will be offered for sale in New York. Argentines will probably buy the stock and, as the railways are badly out of date, may wish to modernize the lines with American equipment. The question will then be, first, whether the Argentines can pay for the equipment, and second, whether they will be able to afford to replace it when necessary, offering a continuing market. Unless both halves of the question can be answered in the affirmative, American equipment producers will not care to venture into a risky

Possibly the very ambition of the South American trade program will prove its undoing. But, although the broad planning is ambitious, most officials insist on great caution in the execution. With luck, results may be expected.

Shipboard War Rumors.

It was human nature, but at the same time it was silly. It was on wartime from Southampton to New York, over some mysterious route, zig-zagging our course all the way, the ship painted in camourflage and without a light of any description showing at night.

Rumors ran rife among passengers and service personnel—stewards, etc.-all the way over. There were approximately 1,700 passeners and it was fair guessing to average a score of rumors per passenger.

There was, for instance, debate as to what port we should finally reach. We were headed for New York, our ship's manifest showed New York as destination and there was no logical ground for belief we'd go anywhere else.

Yet I was told, confidentially of course, by dozens of people that and feel our way in passing each we would land at Halifax, at Boston, at Philadelphia, at Norfolk, at Miami, even at Havana. As a Georgian I was quite hurt because no one mentioned Savannah.

And, of course, there were but few who thought we'd go where we were destined, New York. That was too prosaic.

The Story Of the Lifeboat.

Then there was the story of the

THE AUTHOR OF "LENINISM" Most everyone knows that Adolf Hitler wrote a book called "Mein Kampf," which means "My Struggle." It is a Remember NEW YORK, Oct.

Those who have read it say it is the frankest—and the longest—book written by a dictator. having such trouble finding ship room for the voyage home, the background of the picture needs

Lenin did not want Stalin to be his successor. Lenin said: "Comrade Stalin is too rude. . . . I propose to the comrades to find a w.y of removing him from that position (secretary-general) and appointing another man who in all respects differs from Stalin only in superiority-namely, more patient, loyal, more attentive to comrades, less capricious. . . ." Stalin managed to make most of the Russians forget this when took over the party on Lenin's death and "liquidated" his op-

"No revolution can be made with silk gloves."

"The art of leadership is a serious matter. One must not lag behind a movement, because to do so is to become isolated from the masses. But one must not rush ahead, for to rush ahead is to lose contact with the masses. He who wishes to lead a movement must conduct a fight on two fronts-against those who lag behind and those who rush ahead."

Stalin said those things, and many others, in his book. He admits some mistakes. For instance, he said, "The fear of admitting one's errors after the recent intoxication by successes, the fear of selfcriticism, unwillingness to correct one's errors rapidly and decisively-that is the main difficulty."

It ought to be remembered that Stalin is not an original dictator as are Hitler and Mussolini. He is second in a line, having followed Lenin. He knows more about the business than either of his rivals. They, for instance, do not admit mistakes. STALIN IN FRONT It becomes perfectly obvious that Stalin is the dominant figure in Europe. There is no leader worth the name in England. Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin are the leading figures with the last named now occupying the

A few months ago in Mexico City I saw, in some of the markets, great piles of stuff obtained in the barter deals with Germany. It largely was stuff the Mexicans didn't want and wouldn't buy.

Russia early announced she would take only what she needed. Germany will pay in cash or in excellent materials for what she gets. The fact she is asking for immediate delivery is indicative of the shortage she faces.

Russia therefore holds the destiny of Germany. Stalin can, by deal with the Allies, close off supplies to Germany and break that country within a few months. Hitler knows this. be too comfortable. He cannot have any real faith in the Russians.

Italy already has seen the handwriting on the wall and is attacking Communism. The church will help Italy avoid it. But with the Russian goods there will come to Germany the under-ground work of the Communists. I imagine Stalin will let the Russian goods come slowly. It should be remembered there were 10° Communist deputies when Hitler had the Reichstag burned. It should be remembered there were thousands of Socialists and that the labor unions were suppressed. There will be soil in which the Russians may plant their seeds. Hitler cannot attack them openly. Stalin might turn off the spigot.

Stalin grows larger and larger. The shadow of the Kremlin grows heavier and heavier on the entire scene in Europe.

"THE TWILIGHT OF RIGHTS" Some time ago Dr. Bruce Hopper, of Harvard, lectured to the Harvard alumni of Atlanta. In his lecture he advanced the possibility we might be entering into a period in which the in-dividual rights would disappear in a new form of government in which the state was supreme.

This might be called a "twilight period" or the dark ages of human rights. The rights of the individual have existed, as we know them, only since the American and French revolutions.

would then go down again with a loud clank of publicity. Hopper suggested that this country might become the nation singled out "by history and by geography" to be the guardian of Boats Lost The result was that Americans couldn't be sure of getting the orderly process. England is, it appears, entirely lacking in leadership, but she nevertheless remains in the front line defense of our way of life. Our resources ought to be used to assist her; our soldiers never. It is not worth our sending soldiers even if she is to be defeated, because it would then be too late. We must keep the channels of trade open, must remove the embargo. .

This war grew out of selfishness. All wars grow out of self-interest. It is to our self-interest to get busy and build up trade in South America, to make our trade strong wherever we can. There is no call for sentiment.

Perhaps, with a cash-and-carry system, we might even get back some of our war debts.

What Does It Profit a Nation to Save the World and Lose Its Own Soul?

Second, life-long pensions for all of the injured and thousands who are not injured-a burden that will double the one we bear

Third, the enormous cost in money, met in part by such taxes as we never have seen and in part by further increasing the public debt. And since we have already spent the price of a war in needlessly prolonging the depression, further increase of the debt might bring disaster. Our banks and insurance and trust companies are loaded with government bonds, and Senator Glass has said that a 10 per cent drop in the price of bonds would break every bank in America. To avert disaster, the government would unquestionably resort to inflation-and the world has learned that inflation, once it gets out of control, can be as destructive as itself.

Fourth, the government now has plans, complete in every detail, ready for enactment into law overnight, for complete m zation of the nation's resources under an absolute dictatorship. Everything would be controlled as strictly as in a Fascist state. citizen would be told where to work and what pay to accept. Manufacturers would be told what material to use, what price to pay, and how much to charge. All prices, rates, charges and profits would be fixed. Liberty would be completely gone. The press would be gagged. And when the war is over, and a bankrupt nation faces demobilization and unemployment and chaos, the thousands of big and little despots trained in exercising power will use their enormous influence to prolong the totalitarian system. It will take something like a miracle to bring back democracy and personal freedom.

By entering the war, we might insure destruction of the tyrant, liar and murderer who now threatens all liberty in Europe. But what will it profit us if we lose our own liberty and thus destroy everything that we fight to save?

Gallogly Tip Slip Brings New Police Order Plan

Councilman Bolen Proposes To Print 'Lookout' Notices So Officers Will Be Sure To Understand; Gunn Will Face Committee Friday Night.

printed orders in the future in-stead of humdrum and confusing at different watches, but that when oral readings if Councilman C. M. Bolen, chairman of the police committee of council, has his way at a meeting of that body scheduled for Friday night.

Bolen yesterday announced le will seek to replace the reading of the orders and "lookouts" at the various watches by the printed forms. He asserted that it was because of incomplete hearing or present that Betselmes S.D. reports that Patrolman S. D. Gunn ignored a tip that Richard Gray Gallogly's escape car was parked on a lot off Linden street across street from the Crawford Long Memorial hospital.

At the same meeting Councilman E. A. Minor, committee member, will offer a revised draft of an anti-lottery measure, which city council turned down at its last meeting, October 2.

Reading Confuses Police.

Contending that the reading of scores of orders each day leaves police officers cold and without definite information on which to act, Bolen asserted he will insist that each officer be provided with printed orders and held responsible for their execution. "We cannot expect police officers to absorb orders read to them in a crowded, noisy room with faulty acoustics," Bolen said. "That is expecting too much even for a policeman. I think we should print the orders, provide each officer with them, and then, if they are not executed, we will know where to place the responsibility. The system would not cost more than $100 a year."

Bolen pointed out that Gunn

FALL HEAT WAVE BLISTERS EAST: RECORDS BROKEN

Yesterday Hottest Day for 50 Years in Many Cities; Chill Western Winds Promise Relief.

By The Associated Press A freak fall heat wave shattered temperature records in the east yesterday but a mass of cool air from the west presaged quick relief for most of the swelter belt.

High marks for October 10, which in some places had endured for a half century or longer, were exceeded in many cities.

Baltimore, with 93, experienced its hottest October day. Newark's 11 was 10 points higher than the previous top for the date reported in 1912. Washington's 91.7 broke all precedents for the day. Apple Tree Blooms

Pittsburgh's 88 was 2 degrees shove the old October 10 record established in 1883. The same re ing was enscribed on the weather books in Philadelphia. From Mercer, Pa., came word that an apple tree was blooming for the second time this year.

Other all-time peaks for the date included 87 at New Haven, Conn., and Providence, R. I.; 86 at Boston, and 84 at Binghamton and Syracuse, N. Y.

Atlantic City had 85 and the warmest October day in its an-nals. A maxmium of 83 at Con-

Jack Frost on March.
A warm sun created the illusion of midsummer in New York Labor Day.
But a cold atmospheric front, extending from the shores of Lakes Erie and Ontario southwestward to the lower Mississippi valley, was expected to reach the north Atlantic seaboard today.

Efforts To Impeach Byrne, District Attorney of New Orleans, Gains Momentum, After Rally

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 10 .- (AP) Citizens' efforts to impeach District Attorney Charles A. Byrne, of New Orleans, gained momentum tonight a few hours after 5,000 booing persons gathered in mass meeting before Byrne's offices demanding his recell and leading manding his recall and loudly hissed and denounced the name of Governor Earl K. Long-an almost unprecedented act in recent years. Civil Judge Harold A. Moise announced he would appoint an attorney tomorrow to institute impeachment proceedings against the prosecutor in accordance with a request of 25 citizens who filed a petition charging Byrne with "incompetence, favoritism and gross misconduct" in office.

The mass meeting and petition came on the heels of another petition, which caused an uproa criminal district court vesterday when Judge George P. Two jurors were held for an hour and then dismissed from the body by Platt. Today he denied their petition for reinstatement, filed through attorneys, saying he could not "condone the open de-fiance" shown his court by their efforts to read the petition attacking Byrne.

Long, who hurried to New Orleans this afternoon, was not available for comment on reliable reports three federal investigators questioned him in his capitol office yesterday. The federal grand jury is in session here, and attaches said fresh indictments could be expected Monday. This body pre-viously has indicted former Governor Richard W. Offer 10,000 Dollars for Death of Premier Friendly to Japan.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 10. - (AP) The twenty-eighth anniversary of the establishment of the Chinese republic was marked today by appearance of circulars purporting to offer 10,000 Chinese dollars for the killing of Wang Ching-wei, dissident former premier of the central government.

The circulars were signed, "Central Research Statistics Bureau." Sums ranging from 200 to 10,000 Chinese dollars ($14.64 to $732) were listed for the killing of 24 others whom the hand bills called "traitors."

The names included Mme. Wang Ching-wei, once a member of the Quomintang (government party), along with her husband. Wang issued a statement yesterday urging peace with Japan and overthrow of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, head of the central government, whom he called an "aspirant dictator."

statement did not mention the all-China government under Japanese domination which Wang has been working on, and his silence on this point was taken to indicate a hitch had developed.

Selma, the elder of the Wight sisters, is petite in stature, and possesses blue eyes and chestnut brown hair, which she wears in a becoming page-boy fashion. She completed her education last year at Florida State College for Womend, and was a member of Kappa Delta sorority there. She is adept at bridge, golf and horseback riding, and is a sought-after figure on the dance floor.

"Beck," as Rebecca is called by her intimates, is slender and stately in stature, and possesses gold-en blond hair, blue eyes, and a winsome manner, which has made her a favorite with her contem-poraries. She enjoys swimming, golf, bridge and riding, in which she possesses more than her share of skill. She attended the University of Georgia, and was a member of Chi Omega sorority. Both sisters have executive ability, both having served as for-mer presidents of Sigma Delta sorority. And, as you know, Sel-ma is secretary of the current Debutante Club.

THE advent of little Virginia Donalson Ayers, brand-new daughter of Sanford and Bobby Crew Ayers, at Piedmont hospital on Monday, gives promise of a fair debutante in years to come. MISS JULIA LOWRY BLOCK.

The hand of lovely Julia Block, debutante daughter of Mrs. E. Bates Block, and the late Dr. Block, provides a good example of the sloping head line, denoting artistic talent and instincts. This is evidenced by the fact that while enrolled at Mount Vernon Seminary in Washington, D. C., Julia was awarded the silver trophy for the best exhibit in art, in which she is unusually gifted. Taken in connection with the type hand, the fact that the line of fate rises at the base of the hand and is joined a little later by a well defined line which runs directly to and terminates under the finger, forming a five pointed star, indicates that a gratifying success could be achieved, should she elect to follow this line of endeavor.

Says Stars Lack "Sex Appeal"

By Ida Jean Kain.

Well, well! Rex Ingram-he was responsible for "The Four Horse-men"—doesn't think that Hollywood can today boast a single sen sational star. What the screen lu-minaries lack, insists Mr. Ingram. is that complex factor which has been labeled "sex appeal,"

Broken down into simpler components, sex appeal would seem to consist in great beauty, terrific personality and an intrinsic something else which puts the world in ask Mr. Ingram, Nita Naldi, Alice Terry and Gloria Swanson were three outstanding examples of the silent favorites so blessed.

And why don't the talking stars have what it takes? "They're too thin," is the answer. "It seems to he the fashion to have a figure like a bellhop. It isn't teminine. It isn't beautiful. All the great stars were on the curvsesome order."

To an extent, Mr. Ingram is inclined to blame the persistence of style for thinness on the couturiers. But the couturiers have more to "I think the vogue of the waspwaist is nothing less than scanda-lous," the director says. "It is on a par with the African custom of putting wooden discs into the women's lips. It distorts nature just as much. Nothing that distorts nature is beautiful."

Asked to name one American celebrity-just one-with the proper quota of fascination, Mr. Ingram paid tribute to Alice Marble, the tennis star, "who is more fascinating than anyone on the screen today." But she may soon he on the

Famous Director MY DAY NewMusicGrouptoHelp Young American Artists

By Eleanor Roosevelt:

NEW YORK CITY .- Dr. Harvey Cushing's death on Saturday was a great loss to the nation and a great sorrow to all who knew him. I left Washington by plane last night and went up to New Haven, Conn., on a noon train in order to be at the funeral, but I shall be back in Washington

It seems to me that the unexpected is always happening in life. One never knows from day to day what fate may have in store.

Going 'round the United States in a week gives one a feeling of having traveled far and steadily, but I met so many men on the way who seemed to think nothing of traveling from coast to coast several times in the same month, that I feel I should also take it more casually.

I spent yesterday glued to my desk in the White House, because, with all of Miss Thompson's efforts, there were a great many things waiting for my personal attention. I imagine I shall be catching up on mail most of this week. Holidays usually result in extra work some time. It seems to me that in California, particularly in San Francisco, one has a sense of interest which everybody takes in the various arts. After seeing the exhibtion of old masters and contemporary artists at the World's Fair out there and hearing of various other artistic ventures, I feel I should mention to you the existence of an interesting exhibition in the east.

There is, at present, at the Yonkers Museum of Science and Arts in Trevor Park, Yonkers, N. Y., an exhibition by contemporary artists, which will be there through the whole month of October. It includes both oil paitings and water colors.

Anyone having the time to stop on the way in or out of New York city, will find this a most interesting exhibition, for there are many of our best known American artists included in the list of those who have sent their work.

I also have just had a most interesting letter telling me about a new musical organization. It is called "The Little Symphony Society of Philadelphia." This group is dedicated to the purpose of creating more opportunities for young American artists by pro-viding excellent accompaniment for outstanding soloists who wish to make their debut in a great music center, by offering guestconducting experience to rising directors of merit and by furnishing an available medium for promising composers to hear their works performed by a fine professional orchestra.

This should mean an opportunity for young Americans to be heard, which has often been difficult. I hope the support will come from many parts of the country and not only from Philadelphia, for it is thrilling to help in the development of young American artists.

Self-Supporting Girl Should Leave Style-Cramping Home

Dear Miss Chatfield:

My mother died many years ago, and, being the oldest daughter in the family, I've had heavy responsibilities, since I was very young. Father is what you would call an unreasonable man and my life isn't very pleasant. I am 25, for several years I have drawn a fine salary and have spent a lot of it to keep our home and make it attractive. I thought this would be the best thing I could do with my money for myself and my sisters.

Things have gone from bad to worse. Father is disagreeable with my friends. He seldom has a kind word to say, doesn't un-derstand why I am not satis-fied to come home from work and spend the evening with him alone. A friend who has an apartment has seen what mess I live in and she has asked me to go fifty-fifty with her on living expenses and move in. We are congenial, have the same friends and both work. Considering all this what do you think of my Answer: I'd go for that offer as a duck goes for a junebug. And why not? You've done your duty by your home and your father and if he has proper appreciation of your efforts he has a poor way of showing it. When you have moved out he will, in all probabil-ity, decide that he needs a wife to spend evenings with him and he'll go scouting for one. By checking out you may make three people happy.

out of the post-war period which we shouldn't forget to be thankful for. Today we recognize a daughter's inallenable right to leave her father's home and go out to seek adventure, to find her niche in life and have some fun while the search is in progress. Time was when such a movement would have shocked the neighbors and brought down their sharp critieism on daughter's head. But no more.

Maybe daughter's job and pay check are responsible for the change from sentimental to common sense approach to the prob-lem. Maybe we have finally waked up to the realization that the most dutiful daughter and the most well-meaning parents aren't necessarily good for one another as housemates and boon compan-ions. Whatever the cause, the reto spend her youth fuming and fretting over home conditions that destroy her morale and spoil her youth and make it virtually certain that she will be a sour, dour, disappointed spinster.

It's the way of all flesh: Youth calling to youth: "Let's be gya and have a good time. Why should be be bound by the old-er generation that has had its youthful galety, its love and marriage and parenthood? Haven't we the right to taste the same pleasures, revel in the same experiments and lead our lives as we wish to lead them?" Yes, youth, you have; and you needn't neglect family obliga-

Rita Asks Stanton to Explain His Attitude Towards Her

By KATHRN BEMIS. SYNOPSIS.

Rita Rhodes, heir to a large fortune when she is 25 or sooner, if she marries, is mystitied when Preston Meeker suggests as they sit in masquerade costumes in the Frosts' lanter-lighted Pasadena garden that they made a mistake in their engagement. She breaks it, of course, but wonders what is wrong with her that men treat her so heartlessly. She is pretty, she knows, but Preston is the third man to break the bonds. She wishes her perennially young mother, Dolores, were with her instead of in Paris, as, she detests Wilmot Green, Delores' fourth husband, and hates to face him with the news. Also to face the comments of newspaper columnists who have described her as a fliratious glamor girl. When Preston leaves her in the garden, a man in a clown's costume parts the bushes behind her and says, "It's a darn shame! A fortune hunter like Meeker hotfooting it away from a girl of your type! I'm at your service, and you're going to see a lot of me." He disappears as others approach. Although resentful of his snooping, Rita is somehow thrilled. Delores cables she is divorcing him. He leaves at once for Paris. Rita recognizes the voice of Stanton, her new chauffeur, engaged by Green, as that of the clown. She allows him to take her for a drive, her determination to discharge him tempered oy feelins she can't analyze. Bob Dilling, driving her by 'night to her family's Spebreeze summ'r home, makes violent love to her. Stanton appears suddenly and lays him out with a blow to the chin. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT VII.

But Bob pulled away angrily, leaped from thec ar, determined to show this fresh upstart a few tricks. His fist shot out fiercely, went wild. But Stanton's stinging blow told. Bob Dilling sprawled full length on the soft grass carpet, all power to retailate gone.

It had all happened so swiftly hat Rita was stunned speechless.
Stanton calmly took off his cap, pushed back the hair that had fallen over his forehead, replaced the cap. But he did not take his gaze from his victim, now coming to sitting posture, and rubbing his chin where the blow had struck.

Then Stanton said, "You can get a bus at the next corner, Mr. Dilling. I'm taking Miss Rhodes home." Stanton quickly got in the car beside the astonished Rita. She gasped out, "But Stantonnow did you happen to be here?"

"Oh, I had to get out of another tight spot. It's tough riding in the trunk compartment of any carand yours is undersized." He turned on the ignition.

"The trunk! You weren't in there -really?"
"From the way my leg is acting,

I'm sure of it. I'll be paralyzed for life if I keep this up. That time in the Frost garden, you remember, it gave me quite a turn." She laughed a little nervously.

812 NEW YORK, Oct. 10 .- (AP)-The stock market's war pulse quickened today, following belligerent speeches by Germany's Hitler and France's Daladier, but gains running to 3 points at the best were substantially reduced or cancelled at the close.

The list was moderately higher at the opening and moved up further midway of the first hour. There were subsequent selling and buying flurries and prices hit the top in the last hour in the wake of French premier's address. Profit taking, however, reached leaders just before the finish.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks retained a net advance of .4 of a point at 52.2. Transfers of 953,500 shares compared with 617,942 the day before.

Despite the declaration of Hitler that the Nazis would fight to the bitter end if the Fuehrer's peace proposals were rejected by the Allies, and the Daladier promise that France and England would persist in the conflict until a "real was guaranteed, many traders inclined to cash in on the

NEW · YORK, Oct. 10.—(AP)-French Premier Daladier put sudden life into the bond market today and speculative issues advanced sharply, late in the session, on his broadcast promise that France would continue to fight.

Until the French leader's words were heard and read in Wall Street the trading session dawdled, with corporate narrowly uneven on slim dealings. But, minutes after the address began, new buying orders for rails, industrials and utilities came into the market. Rises of a ound a point were common throughout all groups except foreign dollar bonds—which declined, as usual—and United States governments, which averaged a moderate loss. Only the Latin Americans showed strength in the foreign list, but, among these, Uruguayan issues weakened. Uruguay 3 3-4s slipped 1 1-2 to 40 1-2 and Montevideo 6s dropped 22 1-2 from the previous sale at 31 1-2.

COTTON ESTIMATE SMALLER IN STATE

976,000-Bale Crop Forecast for Georgia. ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 10.-(AP)-A 976,000-bale cotton crop was estimated for Georgia by the United States Agriculture Department on a basis of October 1 conditions—a decrease of 51,000 bales from the forecast of a month ago. The smaller crop comes in the wake of boll weevil damage which was more widespread than at first apparent, the department's crop-reporting service said yesterday.

The lint cotton yield was placed at 232 pounds an acre, compared with last year's 203-pound yield. Ginnings prior to October 1 showed 581,000 running bales ginned, an increase of 11,000 bales to the same date in 1938.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.-(A)-Resumption of moderate but persistent buying in the grain market today hoisted wheat prices more than two cents a bushel. Purchasing also was distributed among other grains with advances ranging up to a cent or more.

A strong stock market, pros-pects for clearing weather over the farm belt and reductions in margin requirements were bullish factors. Purchasing by previous "short" sellers to cover accounts prior to the Daladier speech and release of the government crop report also was a factor in the trade. Bowser Pleased With Panthers' Showing in Opening Games.

By JOHN CAMPBELL.
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 10.—(P)-Installed as heavy favorites, the dazzling Dukes from Durham, N. c., come to Pittsburgh this week end to take up where they left off in the snow and mud last fall with a 7-0 victory over Pitt.

But the de-fanged Panther, which went strictly amateur this year, won't concede a thing while anxiously awaiting the big test. Says genial Charley Bowser, new head man of football at the sky-

"Duke seems to be a lot stronger offensively this year and their defense looks just as good as it did a year ago. But I'm very well pleased with my team's showing against Washington and West Virginia-and we'll show up for the

JOCK RESIGNED.

Bowser, formerly chief assistant to Dr. John Bain Sutherland, succeeded his boss when "Jock" re-

Regarded for years as one of the country's outstanding power teams, the Panthers last fall began to show signs of air-mindedness.

Against the Cowboys of Southern Methodist from the Texas passing paradise, Pitt took to the skylanes for an overwhelming victory. for an overwhelming victory. However, the rest of the season the Panthers stuck pretty much to

But this fall began a new chapter. De-emphasized under a strict accounting agreement with the Big Ten and minus three-quarters of last year's "dream" backfield along with most of the regular line, Pitt definitely was relegated to the second division in early season pre-

CASSIANO PASSES.

A cross-continent air jaunt to Seattle, the experts figured, would just give the boys a ride and Jimmy Phelan's Huskies a workout. But the Panthers won with a brilliant passing display featur-ing the pitching of "Dandy Dick" Gassiano, lone backfield holdover.

Came West Virginia with a team generally regarded as stronger than the one beaten 19-0 by Pitt The Mountaineers suffered a 20-0 clawing, Coach Marshall "Sleepy" Glenn commenting:

It is indeed surprising that Holy Cross, Georgia's opponent of this Saturday, has not charged L. S. U.'s Tigers with base chair and read and hear all about trickery.

The Tigers flew to Worcester, Mass., and then a fellow Yankees." named Bird just about passed them out of the ball park. It turned out, after careful investigation, that this Bird was a it. The only way they're going to mocking bird—and Ken Kavanaugh, the end, to whom he tossed break up the Yankees is to beat three touchdown passes, was a hawk in dove's clothing.

Holy Cross undoubtedly overlooked, in preparing for the game, that it's bird season in the bayous. One New York writer said that Holy Cross opened the door expecting a house cat and a Tiger walked in. But, if you ask me, they were looking for chickadees, and Bird and Kavanaugh flew in their face. It must have been disconcerting, at that.

Seems like the leading All-America candidate of the day is Ken Kavanaugh. The big, rangy end from Arkansas probably made the greatest showing an end ever has made in a single game in major competition.

Does anyone recall an end scoring four touchdowns before in a major eastern game? Well, I don't. Kavanaugh crossed the double stripes three times on passes from Bird and then converted a Holy Cross pass into a long touchdown run.

What else would a fellow have to do at this time of the year to take rank as the leading All-America candidate? Kavanaugh played a neat game against Ole Miss. Passers weren't getting the ball to him because Ole Miss defenders were rushing them with greater zeal than any fraternity ever performed in

But the fact remains that rangy Ken was out in the open a few times and it wasn't his fault the passes didn't materialize. The stories said that Holy Cross allowed him to ramble at will. But that doesn't sound logical. The Crusaders might have overlooked him on the first touchdown, but certainly they had him in mind when he kept coming back for encores.

Ole Miss did not allow Kavanaugh to roam at will. But he managed to get in the clear a few times, anyway, and on defense he was a pretty potent figure.

L. S. U., as a team, may not finish as one of the great powers, but Ken Kavanaugh, by keeping up his play of the first two games, certainly can land on anybody's All-America.

IKE NIMROD'S IDEA IS SOUND.

"Ike Nimrod," whose column, "Dixie Fields and Streams," is a widely read feature of The Constitution's Sunday sports section, has offered a suggestion which should meet with the full and complete approval of the parties interested—the hunter and the landowner.

Goodness knows, it's a problem every year for countless hunters to figure out where they can go to obtain desired results. Many don't own land and really have no idea where they could get in some good hunting. And they annually run into farmer trouble. They get chased off land, even if "posted" signs aren't in evidence.

No one will blame the farmer. It's his land. He pays for its upkeep, and if he doesn't want a lot of fellows with blazing guns shooting down the wild life of his place, it's only natural.

But what Ike Nimrod suggests is sound and reeks with common sense. Ike suggests that the farmer advertise what he has. If he has extra room for guests and a desire to increase his revenue, he may advertise then watch his business grow.

There are so many hunters who would be quick to take ad- row, the Yanks' president, is no vantage of an opportunity to spend a week end at some nice easy hombre to barter with. farmhouse. They would welcome the help of a guide, who $30,000, also may cause the Yanks could be the farmer's son or a hand around the place. The to hesitate a bit before making cooking of the farmer's wife would set just right with them, too.

And, of course, they'd gladly pay for it.

Unquestionably, there is a real field for what Ike Nimrod suggests. And from the conservation standpoint, it's outstanding. Hunters would have to stay within the limit because the will fall back on young John farmer would not want them wantonly slaughtering his birds and ruining the pleasure of future paying guests. Then, too, he would do everything in his power to increase the number of birds from season to season.

Georgia has outstanding fishing camps. Georgia also has limited clubs for hunting purposes. But Georgia has no places where the great majority can go and hunt and really enjoy it. And so the farmer has a plan. If he does nothing with it, that's his own business. But he easily could take a tip from the fishing camps. They make good money in Georgia. The farmer could do the same by capitalizing on hunting.

Always has been true-always will be. It pays to advertise. and there is plenty of time for farmers to use lke Nimrod's idea Don't you believe one word of em. In the meantime, the Yanks aren't going to sit back on their laurels and let the other clubs build up to them. They are going to patch up their weak spots and try to extend their baseball empire even further into the land of invincibility.

There's one spot in the Yanks that definitely will be strengthened for 1940 and that's first base. Babe Dahlgren did an adequate job after he took over Lou Gehrig's post last May, but he was just a stop gap. Dahlgren can field up to the Yanks' class, but he can't hit up to Yankee stand-

Dahlgren wound up hitting only .234 and there's room on the Yanks for only one hitter in that class. setti, who batted 2.36, and he has his job clinched beyond dispute. You can find first basemen who can field in a class with Dahlgren, but you can't find shortstops who can hold a candle to Crosetti, the most under-rated ball player in the Yankee organization. SEEK McQUINN.

The Yanks already have started their campaign to get a replacement for Dahlgren. One of the rumors floating around the World Series headquarters in Cincinnati was that George McQuinn, of the St. Louis Browns, a .324 hitter in 1938 and a .316 hitter last season, was all wrapped up for delivery to the Yanks.

McQuinn was once in the Yankee chain, playing on Oscar Vitt's great Newark club of 1937. He got away because the Yanks had no idea that an insidious disease wou'l end Lou Gehrig's career. McQuinn and Dahlgren played together in the Newark club, with McQuinn emphasizing his superior talent as a first baseman and forcing Dahlgren to play third.
In addition to the McQuinn rumor there were stories in the air in Cincinnati that the Yanks will make a bid for the unhappy Hank Greenberg, who has just about come to the parting of the ways with the Detroit Tigers. Greenberg, a Jewish boy from the Bronx, would be a tremendous drawing card at Yankee Stadium and would just about make the Yanks impregnable for 1940.

BIG SALARY. But the Tigers are not going to sacrifice Greenberg without get-ting plenty for him, and Ed Bar-forts to get a finished product for Sturm, who played first base creditably for the Yanks' Kansas City farm club. Sturm is a fast and classy fielder and has a reputation as a "clutch hitter." Besides the first base problem the Yanks could use some new pitching talent. Red Ruffing's arm is a question mark, Monte Pearson is still an enigma, and Lefty Gomez seems to be over the hill and going downgrade. The best of the Yanks' young pitchers is Marius Russo, the Italian left-hander who easily may become the star of the Bronx bombers' staff next season.

Anyway, the Yanks aren't going to sit tight. They are going to for tify their position on baseball's pinnacle for any challenge that

Morris Brown's smooth-rolling colored team with two victories over conference rivals will meet South Carolina State College at Ponce de Leon park Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

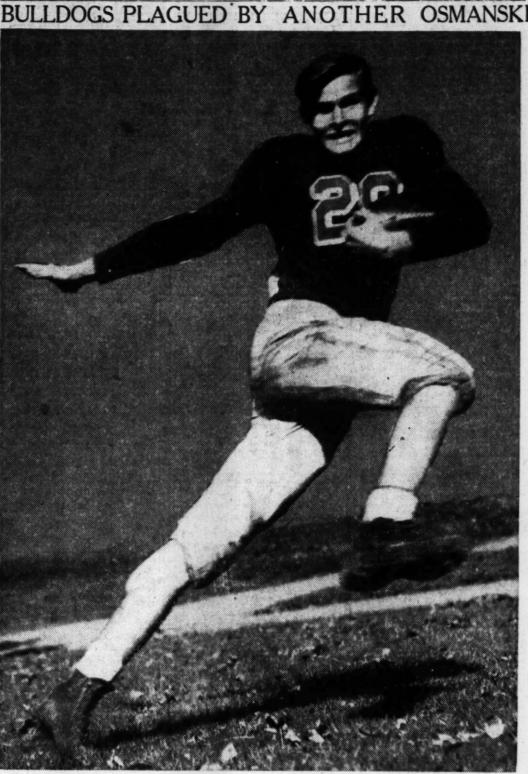

A victory over State here Saturday, Morris Brown can establish herself as the leader of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic conference, with three straight wins. Clifford Brown, captain of the team, and LeRoss Rooker, two of the forward wall's most prominent members, the latter being altermembers, the latter being alternate captain, are the veterans around which is being moulded another edition of the "Seven Pillars of Steel." Thus far the young line of the Wolverines has yielded only six first downs in two hard games and no team as yet has crossed their goal line. The Wolverines have scored 41 points to their opponents' none.

Tickets go on sale this morning at the business office of Morris Brown College on the campus.

There are those who contend that Ben Brown fails to realize that Ben Brown fails to realize his nearness to the throne and the great future which could be his in the ring. They point out that a fighter, on the average, has only five years to make his fortune. Few of them ever reach the heights without first going through weeks of rigorous training, sacrificing a great many so-called pleasures out of the ring which do not mix with fighting, ever building up their bodies for the hardest, most exacting grind a man can go through.

Victory Saturday To Erase Tulane Blight; Pass Defense Stressed

AUBURN, Ala., Oct. 10.-(AP)-Bashed dreams of perfect season notwithstanding, Auburn spirit ran high today, as mentor and player alike set out to erase with vitory over Mississippi State the mudge of defeat by Tulane.

The Plainsmen meet State in Birmingham Saturday, in the only Southeastern conference game of the week.

Mississippi State's goal line has not been crossed, and the team boasts victories over Howard, 45-0, Arkansas, 19-0, and Florida, 12-0. Auburn edged out Birmingham-Southern in its first game, 6-0, and yielded to Tulane, 12-0, last Saturday.

Notwithstanding, the Plainsmen are improving fast, and Coach Jack Meagher said his team would be stronger in Birmingham. An offensive scrimmage was on tap today, and a defensive melee tomorrow against State plays.

Saturday, Auburn president, L. N. Duncan, will be 64 years old, and he has told the team no present could be cherished more than football victory that day. Scouts Bat McCollum, Ralph Jordan and Jimmie Hitchcock, however, are bringing back yarns about State looking as strong as did Tennessee at this time last season. But Auburn gave Tennessee an awful scare in 1938.

Pass defense will be stressed plenty here this week, since State has a pair of clever tossers and Tulane scored once on a pass. A squad of 38 leave here early

SMITHIES FRIDAY FINE LINES' MEET

Purples Seek To Protect Undefeated Record; Castleberry Lost.

By ROY WHITE.

Claims for both city and Georgia's prep football championships as Boys' High plays Marist College at 8 o'clock at Ponce de Leon park. It's the first half of two of the best games of the season to be played at the ball park and will be followed by Tech High and G. M. A. Friday night.

Off to a great start in beating Commercial High, 14 to 0, to open the season at Grant Field, Boys High has won three other games away from home and returns to Ponce de Leon tonight, heralded as one of the chief threats for both city and state honors.

It's a revenge game for Boys' High with the Purples seeking to avenge that 2 to 0 upset by Marist College last year.

Two of the best lines in the city will face each other tonight, with little to choose between them.

Marist will line up with the same forward wall with one exception which beat the Purples last year. Only Dickerson, a guard, will be new against Boys' High. The veterans to face the Purples are Davol and Capallo, ends; Ryckeley and Anderson, tackles; guard, and Wasser, center. MARIST BACKFIELD.

Against that veteran Marist team, Boys' High will start with John Brown and Captain Duck Conger, ends; Red Eaves and Alexander or Haire at tackles; Jarvis and Richards at guards, and Andel at center.

In the backfield Boys' High will have Loftin Smith, quarterback; Bill Conner and Jake Cox, halfbacks, and Berman, fullback.

Wasser will give Marist a slight edge at center and backing up the line, due to more experi-ence than Buck Andel. Captain plays and his pass-catching gives Boys' High an edge at end, with the rest of the two lines a stand-

Jim Crowley, whose Fordham Rams were beaten by Alabama, spoke of this Saturday's game with Tulane as the one he'd "said After workouts on pass defense all along would be the toughest and tackling, the Yellow Jacket on our schedule"; Mal Stevens, of New York U., said his boys would have to be three touchdowns betand three gentlemen from the south spoke in glowing terms of the Louisiana State team that handed Holy Cross such a thumping. The Crusaders, to round out the picture, have Georgia on the program Saturday.

Stevens allotted his three-touchdown requirement as follows: One for the weather (N. Y. U. goes south to Chapel Hill), one for the trip, and "one for the jinx Carolina has had on us." Crowley said he never had felt so little disappointment over a losing game as over the 7-6 defeat by Alabama. "That's chiefly because our boys improved as the game went on, and also because they appeared to be in better physical condition in spite of the heat," said the Fordham coach. "But as for timing and play execution, Alabama played like a team that had three or four games under its belt, while we played as if we hadn't had any-and perhaps we hadn't."

Tulane boosters rate their Ralph Wenzel a better end than L. S. U.'s Ken Kavanaugh. can't prove it by Holy Cross, which watched Kavanaugh score all four touchdowns.

This observer has seen two games this season and, in each plays through and at the line were the deciding factors. N. Y. U. beat Colgate by pounding the Colgate forwards between the tackles, and Alabama gained its margin by turn of Center Lou Defilippo and Fullback Dom Principe to full-time duty may make Fordham a different team against Tulane.

Challedon Winner;

Sets New Record LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 10.—
(P)—Challedon set a new American track record today in winning the Tranter purse, mile and three-sixteenth, opening day feature at Keeneland. His time was 1:54 3-5.

W. L. Brann's three-year-old star, ridden by George Woolf, defeated a five-horse field in taking the $5,000 event.

THE STRENGTH OF THE SOUTH. NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—With the World Series out of the way until the Yankees start after four straight next year against St. Louis, Brooklyn or Cincinnati, it is high time to give more attention to ar already wildly-scrambled, hectic football season.

We get back just in time after the opening salute to find Fordham. Northwestern, Minnesota, T. C. U., Holy Cross, Rice, Indiana, Stanford, Vanderbilt, Wisconsin, Missouri, Georgia Tech, Colgate, Syracuse, Columbia, California and other strong teams beaten, with Southern California, Oregon, S. M. U., Oklahoma, Nebraska, Santa Clara and a few more already tied.

The casualty list has been heavier than usual. Why is this? One Bell, head coach of the Philadel reason is that certain teams are more advanced than others. The other is that we have a greater number of good teams for whom the advance bugles had played too

Out of the first scramble one of the features so far has been the strength of the south. Dixie has moved forward at the first charge with Alabama, Tennessee, Tulane, Duke, North Carolina, Mississippi and L. S. U.

moving in what seems to be a big hurry. For example, Harry Mehre's softly heralded Ole Miss team was d enough to crack L. S. U. and L. S. U. in turn was good enough to almost completely annihilate a trong Holy Cross team that had nine senior stars on hand from last year's powerful eleven. Think that Since Nebraska whipped Minnesota and Oklahoma beat Northwestern (23-0) and Texas overturned Wisconsin-to mention only a few casualties—the rebuttal from the south seems to be in order. Also the rebuttal from the Big Six, which includes Oklahoma and Nebraska. As Frank Thomas told me over the long-distance phone last Saturday night, this is one of the big years for the south.

"I've never seen as many strong teams in that section before," he said. "I can give you Tennessee, Tulane, Alabama, L. S. U., Duke, Ole Miss, North Carolina and Auburn. I can also add Clemson, Furman, Kentucky, Vanderbilt and several more. I don't believe the midwest can name 10 teams that are better than the 10 best teams in the south. I don't believe any section can. We were good enough to beat Fordham, but I'd hate to say we were good enough to beat Tennessee or Tulane. I can tell you right now these are two of the best, no matter where you look."

The Eastern Outlook.

So far, Pittsburgh, Carngie Tech, Fordham and Clipper Villanova outfit are phia Eagles, rates Villanova among the best anywhere from coast to coast.

Pittsburgh gets its baptism of fire Saturday against a fast, powerful Duke eleven that Wal-lace Wade is bringing to the Panther lair. We'll know a lot more about the status of Duke and Pitt after this hook-up.

"It is always hard to figure these early season games," Jimmy Crowley, of Fordham said. "For example, I know Alabama outplayed us, but Alabama was much farther along in timing and team development. It was much more advanced along these lines than we were, and this is no alibi.

"I know we'll be a lot better against Tulane. We needed that hard Alabama game badly to become better knited. I know also that we can't afford to make the mistakes aganst Tulane that we made against Alabama-and I don't think we will. That Tulanemadhouse years.

If S. M. U. was good enough to tie Oklahoma, it should have plenty left even for Notre Dame which had both hands full against Georgia Tech last week.

Auto Company Declares Willingness To Settle Dispute That Has Cost Employment of 18,000.

DETROIT, Oct. 10.-(P)-Spokesmen of the Chrysler corporation tonight declared their willingness to negotiate for a new contract with the United Automobile Workers (CIO) and settle their dispute which has made more than 18,000 employes idle.

Herman L. Weckler, vice president in charge of operations of the Chrysler corporation, made the offer in a reply to union peace proposals presented by Richard T. Frankensteen, regional director and head of the Chrysler division

The union contract with the company which was signed in March, 1937, expired September

Wreckler charged that a slowdown strike, under union instruc-tions, was responsible for the dispute. The trouble at Dodge, said, was due to the union's "attempt to take control of production, to build up a case prior to the new contract negotiations and to make a show of force.'

The dispute between the comproximately 2,000 employes were sent home from the Kercheval plant, which supplies bodies to the De Soto and Jefferson divisions of the corporation.

Production in the De Soto and

And Mrs. Hall, who travels by plane because she thinks "trains are too slow," is the same Mrs. Hall who went on her honeymoon Foster and Earl Browder, national in a buggy, traveling at the rate

At the Montgomery residence on Muscogee avenue Mrs. Hall and her sister, Miss Susie Montgomery, her air-minded companion, swapped stories with their brother and other members of the Montgomery family, of the days "back when.

Likes Day of Speed. "Well, I like living in these days of speed," said Mrs. Hall, "I think traveling by plane is fine, when I want to go somewhere I want to go in a hurry. No, I never bother to read or knit on the plane, I just think about this and that.

"When I was a girl we used to travel in a buggy all the time. Of course, I rode horseback all the time all over father's plantation and I used to watch the birds flying, but I never did think I would be up there flying myself some day. "From Canton we went by horse and buggy to our new home in Carthage. It was only 40 miles, but it took us nine hours. But that was speed in those days. I can't imagine taking nine hours to go anywhere now. V'hy, I jump hop a plane and presto! I'm there.

Younger Sister Flies. Miss Montgomery, a retired school teacher, says she is "not quite 80" but she flies because she likes to be "up in the clouds."

"I had the same thrill out of my first plane trip as I did from my first train ride when I was a little girl. Looking back on it now it seems rather slow. My first trip on the train was planned for weeks. It was a big event, I was a little too old to take along my dolls, but I wanted to take everything else. When I travel now, I enjoy looking out the plane's win-dows at the landscape below.

"In a plane we always seem to be creeping up on the territory, but I remember when I rode on a train for the first time, I told my mother everything was going backwards. As a matter of fact we
